1 Nelson Mandela was a famous South African anti-apartheid activist and politician, and the first black president of the country.

2 His teacher gave him a new name because in the 1920s, African children were usually given English names that were easier to pronounce.

3 When he was in his twenties, Mandela started campaigning against apartheid and led non-violent, peaceful protests for more than 20 years.

4 In 1964 the South African government sentenced Mandela to life imprisonment.

5 While he was in prison, Mandela wrote his autobiography Long Walk to Freedom and had secret talks with F. W. de Klerk.

6 In 1990 Mandela was released from prison. In 1993 he shared the Nobel Peace Prize with F. W. de Klerk, and in 1994 he became South Africa's first black president.

7 We remember Nelson Mandela through films and music about his life, such as the film Mandela: Long Walk to Freedom and the song Ordinary Love by U2. We also remember him through public celebrations like Nelson Mandela International Day, which is celebrated on 18th July.
